Are you a creative designer, who would love to join the Heartfelt Creations design team? We are looking for vintage, shabby chic, clean and simple, elegant, and mixed styles, to create cards, layouts, and altered art projects.

How to Apply:

Email us 3 completed card or scrapbook samples with instructions that showcase some of the unique work that you have already done along, with a link to your active blog. Please provide your complete name, address, and a short paragraph about yourself and why you would be a great addition to the Heartfelt Creations Design Team. You can email this information to info@heartfeltcreations.us.

You have until March 16, 2012 to apply for a design team position. We will review all applicants, and on March 21, 2012 we will announce the semifinalist's on the blog.

Semifinalist

If your name is on this list, we will send you Heartfelt Creations products. You will need to create 2 projects and send them to the address listed above by April 13, 2012. Digital pics and complete instructions need to be emailed to emmalou@heartfeltcreations.us. The digital pics with instructions must be received by April 13, 2012. The finalists will be announced on the blog on April 25, 2012.

Requirements

1. A commitment of 6 months required, from May 1, 2012 – October 31, 2012.
You will need to submit 1 digital picture of your project using Heartfelt Creations stamps, with complete instructions. These digital pics will be featured on our blog.
2. A minimum of 1 project per week, at least one 1 altered project per month. These projects must also be submitted to an online forum, such as, Splitcoast, after it has been featured on the HC blog.
3. You will be required to submit your digital pics with instructions by Saturday of every week.
4. As a design team member, you will also be working with products that have not been officially released to the public. You may not post those projects to your blog until the products are officially released on the Heartfelt Creations blog.

5. On the 30th of every month you will be required to send in the original cards, layouts, and altered projects that you created and featured on the blog that month. These will be featured on our display boards. You will be provided with an HC FedEx account number to ship your projects to the HC office.

6. When submitting cards, layouts, and altered projects, we do require that you use only the Heartfelt Creations line of stamps, dies, Spellbinder dies. You can use any other embellishments (no premade flowers) and accessories that you like to work with.

7. When you post projects on your blog that you designed for the Heartfelt Creations blog, you will need to link the Heartfelt Creations stamps and dies back to our website at www.heartfeltcreations.us.

8. Each stamp you receive will need to be used at least one time. Using more than one stamp on a card is fine. Each stamp will be qualified for the required minimum of using it one time.

What are your benefits when you join the Heartfelt Creations Design Team?

Each design team member receives every new monthly HC release and a huge welcome to the design team package filled with all kinds of goodies when being accepted as a finalist. This package is valued at $300+. All the stamps and dies we send will be yours to keep, and you don't pay a penny! You will also receive an exclusive 40% discount on all other merchandise that you would like to purchase during your 6 month contract. As an HC designer, if you use our products when submitting to print magazines and the project is published, you will receive $100 cash or $100 HC gift Certificate (your choice). You will have a bio and picture on our website, with links to your blog.
