

Design Team Call

Apply by Feb. 27, 2019

Are you someone with a passion for crafting and inspiring others? Do you love showing off your handmade creations for friends to see? If this sounds like you or someone you know, then we may have just the perfect opportunity!

We at Heartfelt Creations have a mission to create beauty in the lives of our crafters, inspiring others with art from the heart. We make the world more beautiful through the inspiration we have to offer. How do we do this, you ask? Well, it all starts with a great team. A team of talented artists and designers who are driven and committed to bring their best to our crafting community.

For a limited time, we are having an open design team call! This is your chance to join our talented team of designers. Could you be a great fit to join our team? Here are some things we highly value and require of our designers.

What it takes to join our team:

- Do you have a team player attitude?
- Are you good at following instructions?
- Do you have experienced crafting skills?
- Are you willing to learn and continue to develop as a crafter?
- Do you regularly share your projects to social media, such as Facebook & Instagram?
- Do you have an active crafting blog or website?
- Can you communicate fluently in English?

If this sounds like you or someone you know, apply at <http://hcgo.co/19dt-apply> for your chance to join our team! Apply by Feb. 27th!
